

Ancient Scribe

Game 12 August 1011

Trading is the main activity with the empires at the moment. This is however confined to transactions with the Market. So far no inter Empire trading has been seen.

There are also many scouting missions to get a better idea of the environment around the fringes of each Empire. Some Independent villages have aligned themselves with the closest empires and some rebel settlement have also joined Empires.

It seems that this period will be short lived while all those who want to join an Empire will do so. The next phase is where the Empires feel that the villages resisting their overtures need to be taken by force. We await developments.
